

LOVING YOUR JET

Challenges inspire collaboration

What do you like about your work?

I am a problem-solver and I simply love troubleshooting. Solving AOG issues with my team is exciting, especially when we have to travel far away. We are motivated to succeed in the face of any challenges that might come up.

What are you passionate about?

Aviation has been a part of my family for generations. My father was a pilot and I am a pilot. I flew for the first time at only 18 months old and my passion has been there ever since!

What can challenge you on an AOG project?

Each AOG experience is a demanding situation and poses unique challenges for our customers and their aircraft. Our job is to grab what we need and get to the aircraft as fast as possible and then resolve the issues by working as hard and as long as needed to get the aircraft flying again.

How do you meet the challenge?

I have a great team that loves AOG challenges too! They are reliable, responsive and motivated to work together to do whatever it takes.

Thierry Duport, Supervisor & Team Leader PC-12, RUAG Aviation, Geneva

Home	Bellegarde sur Valserine, France
Hobbies	Aviation, biking and swimming
Passion	Flying
Motto	You will have in life what you inspire in others

Together
ahead. RUAG